

Disposable Clothing Standards

Disposable Clothing Types

TYPE 1

Gas Proof Suits

Fully sealed suits, EN 943

TYPE 2

Limited Gas-Tightness

Suits prevent dust, liquids and vapours from penetrating at overpressure, as listed in EN 943.

TYPE 3

Liquid-proof Protection

Suits are approved to withstand compressed fluid e.g. from hoses and nozzles. The suits must have welded seams. Penetration testing has to be conducted according to EN 369 to provide information on protection in relation to individual chemicals, as listed in EN 14605. Type 3B protects against biologically contaminated particles, as listed in EN 14126.

TYPE 4

Splash-proof Protection

Suits are approved for the saturation of a liquid that can condense on the suit. The suits must have welded seams. Penetration testing has to be conducted according to EN 369 to provide information on protection in relation to individual chemicals, as listed in EN 14605. Type 4B protects against biologically contaminated particles, as listed in EN 14126.

TYPE 5 & 5B

Harmful Substance Protection

Suits protect against harmful substances, EN 13982 Type 5B protects against biologically contaminated particles, as listed in EN 14126.

TYPE 6 & 6B

Limited Splash-proof Protection

Suits protect when there is a risk of splashing on the suit, as listed in EN 13034. Type 6B protects against biologically contaminated particles, as listed in EN 14126.

Click here to visit our website for Clothing Products

If you can't find what you're after hit the Contact Us link and we'll sort you out.

www.onestopsafety.com.au

1300 663 777

Source <https://www.privatebrands.com.au/force360-standards-clothing-protection>